Fields Trips

9:00 a.m. Geology Field Trip. The annual Ohio Academy of Science field trip, run this year for members of both the Academy and the National Association of Geology Teachers, will take place generally along the shores of Lake Erie between Marblehead-Catawba and Vermilion, and will be run by Dr. Charles H. Carter, of the Lake Erie Section, Ohio Division of Geological Survey, and Dr. Jane L. Forsyth, of Bowling Green State University. Stops will afford opportunities to observe excellent exposures of Devonian and Pleistocene units in the lake cliffs and the effects of erosion and deposition along the shoreline, including their environmental influences on man and vice versa. Although Lake Erie has lowered considerably from its record high levels of 1973, problems produced by erosion along the shore are still impressive. A few stops will also be made at some Pleistocene shoreline features south of the Erie shore.

The field trip will convene at 9:00 a.m. at the Marblehead Light House on the east end of Marblehead Peninsula. Transportation will be by private car. Carpooling is urged, to reduce parking problems at stops. A lunch stop will be made in a park en route; participants will be responsible for their own lunches.

9:30 a.m. The Plant Sciences Section is sponsoring a spring wildflower field trip to one or more of the natural areas managed by Heidelberg College. These beech-maple woodlots are located within a few miles of Tiffin and represent various stages in forest development.

Persons wishing to attend the field trip are requested to meet at the Laird Science Hall at 9:30 a.m. The trip will conclude about noon. Leaders are Percy Lilly and Ronald Stuckey.
