Table of Contents (Volume 67, Number 1, 2006)

http://hdl.handle.net/1811/71027

Downloaded from the Knowledge Bank, The Ohio State University's institutional repository
CONTENTS

SYMPOSIUM: MEETING THE CHALLENGE OF GRUTTER—AFFIRMATIVE ACTION IN TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Articles

Grutter v. Bollinger: Weak Foundations?
Carl L. Bankston III ................................................................. 1

A Misguided Debate About Affirmative Action?
Beatrice L. Bridglall ................................................................. 15

The Supreme Court’s Role in the Growing School Choice Movement
Kevin Brown ................................................................. 37

The Plessy and Grutter Decisions: A Study in Contrast and Comparison
Stephen J. Caldas ................................................................. 67

Justice O’Connor’s Twenty-Five Year Expectation: The Legitimacy of Durational Limits in Grutter
Joel K. Goldstein ................................................................. 83

The Need for a Comprehensive Multi-Year Strategic Plan for Ending Racial and Ethnic Discrimination: A Focus on Schools
Willis D. Hawley ................................................................. 145

Segregation and the SAT
Roslyn Arlin Mickelson ................................................................. 157

Of Doubt and Diversity: The Future of Affirmative Action in Higher Education
Rachel F. Moran ................................................................. 201

Toward Everyday Justice: On Demanding Equal Educational Opportunity in the New Civil Rights Era
Mica Pollock ................................................................. 245

Front-Loading Due Process: A Dignity-Based Approach to School Discipline
Miriam Rokeach & John Denvir ................................................................. 277
Can Voluntary Racial Integration Plans at the K-12 Educational Level Meet Grutter's Constitutional Standard?
Celia M. Ruiz ..................................................................................................................303

Voluntary Integration: Asking the Right Questions
James E. Ryan..................................................................................................................327