CONTENTS

Articles

“What Do We Need a Mediator For?”: Mediation’s “Value-Added” for Negotiators
Robert A. Baruch Bush ................................................................. 1

Models of Quality for Third Parties in Alternative Dispute Resolution
Carole Silver ............................................................................. 37

A Just and Lasting Peace: Supplanting Mediation with the Ombuds Model
Shirley A. Wiegand ..................................................................... 95

Another Alternative: The Use of Moderated Settlement Conferences to Resolve ADA Disputes Involving Persons with Mental Disabilities
Brian D. Shannon ..................................................................... 147

Notes & Comments

Non-Traditional Resolutions to Mass Tort Disputes Take a Hit as AIDS-Infected Hemophiliacs Bear the Cost of Judge Posner’s “Economic Justice”
David M. Scott ......................................................................... 159

For Better or Worse, Till ADR Do Us Part: Using Antenuptial Agreements to Compel Alternatives to Traditional Adversarial Litigation
Daniel J. Guttman ..................................................................... 175

ADR and Cyberspace: The Role of Alternative Dispute Resolution in Online Commerce, Intellectual Property and Defamation
E. Casey Lide ........................................................................... 193

Recent Developments

County of Hennepin v. Law Enforcement Labor Services, Inc., Local #19, 527 N.W.2d 821 (Minn. 1995) ....................................................... 241

Book Review

Renegotiating Health Care—Resolving Conflict to Build Collaboration
Reviewed by Mark R. Dunn ......................................................... 249