Eudora E-mail Filters: How to Color-Code Messages

Eudora message filters allows you to organize and take better control of your e-mail. Among other things, they allow you to color-code the Inbox description line for messages from certain people. For example, you might want e-mail messages from your supervisor to appear in red:

Joe Supervisor 03:27PM 03/14/03 Re: a project for you

To create a color-coded filter, do the following:

1. Go to "Tools" at the top of your Eudora screen and choose "Filters."
2. Click the New button at the bottom left of the filters screen.
3. Choose the options for how you want the filter to be used. Select "From" on the Header drop down menu and in the "contains" field indicate your supervisor's name as it usually appears in your Inbox. Keep in mind that if your supervisor's name is Smith and you only type Smith in this box, all messages from people named Smith would appear in red. You may want to use your supervisor's first name as well.
4. Define the action or actions to be taken on messages that fit the criteria you have established. To make the Inbox description line for messages from your supervisor appear red, change the first action box to "Make Label." Then click the adjacent box that says "None" and choose the red label filter. Note: If you want to edit the color or add text to this label (e.g. "the Boss") follow this path: Tools/Options/Labels.

5. Close the filter screen. When you are prompted to save your filter, do so.

For more information, go to "Help" at the top of the Eudora screen, choose "Topics," and find the index entry for "filters."

OSU Authors Present Ann Hamilton

Internationally renowned artist and Ohio native, Ann Hamilton, will be featured in the last program of the OSU Authors Present 2002 - 2003 series. The public is invited to this evening of insight, information, and thought-provoking discussion on Thursday, April 3, 2003, 6:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. at the Medical Heritage Center, Prior Health Sciences Library 376 West 10th Avenue. Parking is available in Garage F on 9th Avenue.

Hamilton, Professor of Fine Arts at Ohio State, and recent subject of Joan Simon's biography Ann Hamilton, will show images of her work and discuss the thought process that goes into her creations.

According to PBS online, "Hamilton's sensual installations often combine evocative soundtracks with cloth, filmed footage, organic material, and objects such as tables. She is as interested in verbal and written language as she is in the visual, and sees the two as related and interchangeable."

Tickets are available by calling the Friends of the OSU Libraries Office (292-3387). Tickets for Friends members are $40. The cost for guests is $50. Individuals who join Friends receive the membership price. The event includes dinner. Callers should state any dietary preferences.

Resignations

===Administrative & Professional===

Administration: Brent Fuhrman has resigned his position of Senior Accountant effective 28 March 2003

===Faculty===

Information Technology Department: Blake Carver has resigned his position of Web Librarian effective 03 April 2003

Vacancies

===Staff===

Administration: Office Associate - 50% - New Position

Book Depository: Library Associate 1 - 75% - (replacing Fosler) - 2nd Listing

In order to comply with University procedures, employees who are applying for listed vacancies must complete a Promotion/Transfer Request (form 8931, Rev 9/97) during the week of the first listing of the vacancy in the University Personnel Posting (green sheet). To ensure awareness of all vacancies which have been posted, applicants should consult the weekly green sheet rather than relying on the listing in NEWS NOTES Online and are encouraged to attach a resume and/or other supporting documents to the form. Prospective faculty and staff applicants who are absent during the five-day posting period and wish to apply should see Toni Morrison-Smith (morrison-smith.1@osu.edu)
