Recipe for Success: Basic Ingredients for Undergraduate Research

Wednesday, November 14, at 3:30 p.m.
Page Hall Policy Forum, 1810 College Road

Please join a panel of Mershon Center professors for an interdisciplinary discussion on the basic ingredients of a good undergraduate research project.

Panel members will cite examples of good undergraduate research projects and address such questions as:

• How do you develop good research questions?
• What types of methodologies should you use in your research?
• What foundation do you need to have before undertaking a research project?

Panelists include:

• Robert McMahon, Ralph D. Mershon Professor of History
• Theodore Hopf, Associate Professor of Political Science and Russia specialist
• Katherine Meyer, Professor of Sociology and Associate Provost

To attend, please respond to uro@osu.edu by Monday, November 12. Please enter “RSVP 11/14/07” in the subject line of your email. For more information contact Helene Cweren at cweren.1@osu.edu or by phone at 688-4910.
