

Peter Haas

National Security Speaker Series

Peter Haas

University of Massachusetts, Amherst

"Addressing the Global Governance Deficit"

Thursday, April 22, 2004

12:00 p.m. *

Mershon Center

Room 120

There is mounting concern about a global governance deficit for managing international environmental problems and sustainable development. This article reviews the proposals and justifications for reform, and suggests an alternative model of global governance based on diffuse networks of diverse actors performing multiple and overlapping functions. Some reform proposals are offered to improve the prospects of network based global governance.