Clarification regarding the closing of the Journalism Library: While OSUL will no longer be offering library services from the Journalism Library, the room will continue to be used as a study hall location. Assistant Director Jim Bracken said the facility will not offer circulation or reference services; staffing will be Security students. Hours of operation will be Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., with no weekends or break hours.

Patrons can no longer select "JOU Library" as a pickup location because it has been removed from both the local and central lists of pickup sites. They will need to select another nearby location or "My Office / Campus Dorm" as a delivery point. As of today, items with code JOUS can no longer be requested. They will be packed up and moved to Ackerman Library and during that transition; requests will be blocked. Once the books are reshelfed at Ackerman, they will be updated to location MAIS and requests will then be accepted on the items. It is expected that the circulating collection will be packed this week and the actual move will begin at the end of the week.

Dog Days ReadAloud, Wednesday, August 6, Noon, OSU Urban Arts Space (former Lazarus building), 50 W. Town St.: The Libraries "ReadAloud" program presents 'Dog Days ReadAloud,' a series of noon time programs at the OSU Urban Arts Space. The first program features local author Charlene Fix, reading one of Thurber's dog stories and sharing her own poetic reflections from Elkhound/Keeshound, Collie/Shepherd, Great Pyrannes, to Basset Hounds.

Fix is a Professor of English at the Columbus College of Art Design, and a member of The House of Toast Poets. She has received poetry fellowships from the Ohio Arts Council and the Greater Columbus Arts Council, and published poems in various literary magazines. Her book "Mischief" is available from Pudding House Publications, and her book of poems, "Flowering Bruno: A Dography," a finalist for the 2007 Ohioana Book Award in Poetry, is available from XOXOX Press.

"Dog Days Read Aloud" is presented in partnership with the Department of Art and is free and open to the public. Bring your lunch and enjoy free refreshments. Parking is available at the City Center garage and the surface lot south of the former Lazarus Building.

Jeff Smith: Before Bone

Through September 5

Cartoon Research Library's Reading Room Gallery

Jeff Smith brought a much more polished feature to the campus newspaper than most student cartoonists. Thorn, the title of Smith's Lantern strip which was named after its female protagonist, exhibited an unusual level of sophistication. The strip demonstrated very capable manipulation of layout and design coupled with time-honored comic strip narrative techniques. It is interesting to note that by his early twenties, Smith grasped the power of epic narrative, even though the storyline of Thorn, while sophisticated and entertaining, was not linear.

The vantage point of a quarter century and the phenomenal international success of Bone make us see Jeff Smith's college cartoons in a different perspective than we did when they first ran in The Lantern. At The Ohio State University, the student newspaper describes itself as a "laboratory newspaper," and it served that purpose very successfully for Smith. He used Thorn both to hone his artistic skills and to experiment with several types of storytelling. From a sketchbook page to finished strips, this exhibition celebrates the education of a young man.

A signed and numbered catalogue limited to 500 copies is available. It reprints all of the Thorn comic strips in this exhibit and has an introduction by Jeff Smith, a foreword by his colleague Jim Kammerud and an essay by Lucy Shelton Caswell. The volume is available from the library for $25 per copy. Proceeds benefit the Cartoon Research Library.

Special Collectors: Featured Benefactors to Multiple Special Collections

Through August 30

*Gladys Keller Snowden Galleries, Geraldine Schottenstein Wing
Campbell Hall, 1787 Neil Ave.*

Tuesday-Saturday: 11 a.m. – 5 p.m.

This exhibition celebrates the generosity and wide-ranging interests of collectors. The motivation to collect the objects in this exhibition varies as widely as the collectors who are represented. What unifies them is that more than one of the special collections at University Libraries was enriched by their impulse to collect. Some of the collections are the result of business activity. Others grew from the passion to save what otherwise might be lost. Still others reflect scholarly interest to learn more about each object as it was acquired. Whatever the original impetus, the resulting collections are wonderfully varied and this exhibition celebrates this variety in its many forms.

From buttons and film posters to toys and designer gowns, this exhibit highlights gifts-in-kind from these collectors:

Bill Blackbeard

John Burnham

Marochka (Maggie) and Charles Chatfield-Taylor

Ivan Gilbert

Toni Mendez

Tom Minnick

Ann and Emanuel Rudolph

Philip Sills

Sylvia Westerman
