Robert Rakove, Postdoctoral Fellow at the Mershon Center for International Security Studies, speaks on "'Getting the Worst of Both Worlds': John F. Kennedy and Decolonization."

During his talk, Robert Rakove examined the Kennedy administration’s responses to colonial conflicts in the Congo, Goa, West New Guinea, and Portuguese Africa.
Robert Rakove, Postdoctoral Fellow, speaks with John Mueller, Woody Hayes Chair of National Security Studies, after his lecture at the Mershon Center.