

Bassam Haddad sits with Bill Liddle's undergraduate class and continues the discussion about the Arab world with the students after his noon event. The students were able to ask questions and go more in depth with Haddad to learn about the Arab Spring.

Bill Liddle, professor of political science at The Ohio State University, gives an introduction for Bassam Haddad, the third speaker in his Islam and Democracy Speaker Series.

Bassam Haddad is director of the Middle East Studies program and teaches public and international affairs at George Mason University. He is also a visiting professor at Georgetown University. Haddad spoke at the Mershon Center for International Security Studies on Thursday, May 5th, 2011 at Noon.

Bassam Haddad serves as founding editor of Arab Studies Journal, a peer-reviewed research publication. He is co-producer/director of the award-winning documentary film, About Baghdad, and director of a critically acclaimed film series on Arabs and Terrorism, based on extensive field research and interviews.

Bassam Haddad spoke to an audience of over 40 people at The Ohio State University. His talk was titled, "The Unmaking of an Arab Regional Order," and addressed some of the misconceptions that many American people have about the Arab world.