
RESIGNATION OF EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

It is with profound regret that we announce the resignation of Dr. David H. Stansbery from the position of Editor-in-Chief of The Ohio Journal of Science. Since July, 1962, when he accepted this position, the JOURNAL has prospered under his dedicated leadership, increasing in size and efficiency. The associate editor, who at this time assumes all editorial responsibilities, will make very effort to maintain the high standards set by Dr. Stansbery.
