

The first 2012 Mershon Dinner Seminar featured Kevin Boyle, Humanities Distinguished Professor of History at The Ohio State University. He presented his project, "Splendid Dead: The Intimacy of Terror in Early Twentieth Century America" on January 25.

Kevin Boyle is Humanities Distinguished Professor of History at The Ohio State University and recipient of the Alumni Distinguished Teaching Award and the Distinguished University Lecturer Award. His most recent book, "Arc of Justice: A Saga of Race, Civil Rights, and Murder in the Jazz Age," won the National Book Award for non-fiction, the Chicago Tribune Heartland Prize, and was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Critics Circle Award.

Mershon affiliated faculty members and graduates students attend a reception before the event.

More than 60 people came to the Mershon Center to hear Glenn Carle speak on the topic of "Interrogation, the Law, and Ethics: When to Say No."

John Mueller, Woody Hayes Chair of National Security and Professor of Political Science, asks Glenn Carle a question during the event.

Mershon affiliated faculty members and graduate students enjoy dinner together before the event.

From left to right: Ed Crenshaw, Associate Professor of Sociology, Danielle Fosler-Lussier, Associate professor of Music, and Paul Beck, Distinguished Professor of Social and Behavioral Sciences

Kevin Boyle presents his Mershon project, "Splendid Dead: The Intimacy of Terror in Early Twentieth Century America."

Kevin Boyle responds to questions from members of the audience.