NOTES OF INTEREST

FLUTIST CLOSSES FALL NOON SERIES - Flutist Katherine Borst-Jones, Associate Professor of Music at The Ohio State University/Columbus, will close the Fall quarter NOON SERIES with an exciting recital including the music of two contemporary women composers. "Hindsight" by Libby Larsen combines visual images, video, and music while "Narcissus" uses digital delay to enhance the work. Ms. Borst-Jones is a member of the Columbus Symphony, the Pro Musica Chamber Orchestra, American Wind Quintet, and The Columbus Baroque Ensemble. The concert will take place in Reed hall 160 at noon Tuesday November 23.

LIBRARY CLOSSES OVER HOLIDAY - The Campus library will close at 5:00pm on Wednesday November 24 and will be closed on Thursday and Friday. The facility will reopen on Saturday November 27 from 1:00-5:00pm.

IT'S SHOW TIME! - Start the Holiday Season with an hour of great comedy with comedian KEVIN BRENNAN. The S.A.B. will sponsor Brennan's performance on Monday November 29 from 12:00-1:00 in the Gameroom (GA015). This engaging young comic was a recent STAR SEARCH winner and has been seen on A & E's "An Evening at the Improv". His other TV appearances include "MTV 1/2 Hour Comedy Hour", "Comedy Central", and "Spotlight Cafe". Kevin's fresh writing style and quick wit have made him a hit in clubs and at colleges. Be sure to catch Kevin next Monday!

CATCH THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT - The S.O.C.C. is sponsoring a Food and Toy Drive for area needy families. Everyone is asked to donate items such as non-perishable foods, cleaning items, new kitchen/bathroom items, and good new or used toys. Drop boxes will be located in the Student Activities Office (GA 066) and in the Public Services/Administration Building. The drive continues through December 1.

PUT SOME SPARKLE IN YOUR LIFE! - The Criminal Justice Student Association is sponsoring a SEQUIN APPLIQUE sale on Tuesday November 30 in the basement of Galvin Hall from 10-1. The appliques are movable from clothing to clothing, so they are very versatile in addition to being fun and unique. Just the thing for the Holiday Season --and a GREAT stocking stuffer! Come prepared to do your Christmas Shopping here!

"HOUSE" PINS MAKE WONDERFUL GIFTS - If there is a special lady on your Christmas list or, to dress up YOUR holiday outfit, be sure to get a "HOUSE" pin being sold by "THE FRIENDS OF THE COMMUNITY" from November 29 - December 3 in the Galvin Basement from 9-3 each day. These delightful accessories come in a wide selection of colors, shapes, and styles. The cost is $10.00. $4.00 of that will be donated to SAMARITAN HOUSE, a place for homeless women and children. FRIENDS OF THE COMMUNITY will also be collecting houseware items -- paper supplies, cleaning supplies, towels, sheets, and other household needs for Samaritan House. Collection barrels will be available next to pin sales.

"CHALLENGERS" ASK YOUR COOPERATION - The "Challengers", our physically challenged students, ask your cooperation. If you are sitting on stairs or on the floors in the hallways, please clear the space to let the approaching student pass, whether in a wheelchair or with a guide dog. These students are overcoming many "obstacles" to get their education. Don't let YOU be one of them!---And have you purchased your tickets for the "Barrel of Food" from any Challenger member? Today (Monday) is the drawing, just in time for the holiday!

NEW SOCIAL WORK COURSE OFFERED - "Facts and Issues for Social Work Practice" is available winter quarter for graduate and undergraduate credit. It can be used for licensure and as an elective or specialization elective for all students in the program. The course will be held on Tuesdays from 5:30-8:00 pm. See Prof. Nelson Griffiths for more info.

CLEVELAND JOB FAIR TO BE HELD IN DECEMBER - The Greater Cleveland Job Expo will be held Tuesday, December 21 in Public Hall of the Cleveland Convention Center. As of November 10, over 50 employer participants are registered. If you are interested in meeting and pursuing employment at the Cleveland Job Expo, stop by LTC Career Placement Counter in 148 Public Service Building for more information. There is no pre-registration but you need to bring at least 10 resumes with you to the Expo and be dressed in appropriate business attire.

FT. WAYNE PHILHARMONIC SPONSORS COMPETITION - To encourage young musicians, the Fort Wayne Philharmonic is sponsoring a Young Artists Competition on Saturday, January 15. Application deadline is December 1. There are three divisions: Junior, Senior, and Collegiate. Student Activities (GA066) has more information. So, hurry, and start practicing!

ATHLETIC NEWS - The Barons and the Lady Barons will host a Tri-Match with Ohio U.- Chillicothe on Saturday November 27 starting at 1:00 (Women) and 3:00 (Men) in the Cook gym. Come on out! It's a nice thing to do on a holiday weekend! ----Tuesday, November 23 is the annual TURKEY TROT. Meet in front of the Public Services/Administration Building at 12:15 for this run/walk fun affair. Nice prizes!
