OHIO STATE LAW JOURNAL
Volume 50, Number 4, 1989

CONTENTS

Articles

The Influence of History on Procedure: Volumes of Logic, Scant Pages of History
Linda S. Mullenix ........................................................... 803

Workers’ Compensation and Product Liability: The Interaction of a Tort and Non-Tort Regime
Paul C. Weiler .............................................................. 825

The Evolving Law of Agency Shop in the Public Sector
Martin H. Malin ............................................................ 855

The State’s Interest in the Preservation of Life:
From Quinlan to Cruzan
Philip G. Peters, Jr. ....................................................... 891

Judges on Judging

Statutory Interpretation: Getting the Law to Be Less Common
Abner J. Mikva ............................................................. 979

Notes

Ohio’s View of the Pollution Exclusion Clause: Is There
Still Ambiguity? ............................................................ 983

Who Pays? An Analysis of the Allocation of the Costs of Cancelled Nuclear Power Plants After Duquesne Light Co. v. Barasch ..... 999

Artistic Integrity, Public Policy and Copyright: Colorization
Reduced to Black and White .............................................. 1013

Comment

Free Exercise Jurisprudence: A Comment on the Heightened
Threshold and the Proposal of the “Burden Plus” Standard .......... 1035