

ERRATA

In Volume 40, Number 3, of the JOURNAL, an error appears on page 633 of the Article by Susan Smith Blakely entitled "Judicial and Legislative Attitudes Toward the Right to an Equal Education for the Handicapped." In footnote 181, "Mental Health and Law Project" should be "Mental Health Law Project."

In Volume 40, Number 3, of the JOURNAL, in the Comment entitled "Congressional Intent and the ERA: A Proposed New Analysis," two errors appear: on page 649, line 17, "Thus" should be "However"; on page 652, line 7, "segregated" should be "integrated."

If you practice criminal law, you need . . .

The CRIMINAL LAW REPORTER

BNA's all-in-one-place, authoritative information service that

- alerts you to all major changes in criminal law
- cuts down on your reading load
- saves you time for the actual practice of law

BNA's CRIMINAL LAW REPORTER covers everything in the fast-changing criminal law field from interpretation and application of existing criminal law as reflected in the opinions and proceedings of courts at every level . . . to formulation of new legislation . . . to unconventional (and controversial) proposals for approaches to crime and the criminal.

Here's what you'll receive every week with The CRIMINAL LAW REPORTER:

- a crisply written review and analysis of the latest criminal law developments
- Supreme Court proceedings, arguments, actions, and filings
- decisions and proceedings of federal courts of appeals, and district courts — as well as the principal courts of all the states
- a roundup of notable actions in Congress and state legislatures
- digests of reports and recommendations of commissions, associations, committees, the bar, and the press
- full text of all opinions of the U.S. Supreme Court in criminal cases, and of significant federal legislation
- cumulative indexes every six weeks — and a final index for the six-month period covered by the Reporter volume

You get all that and a whole lot more (along with a sturdy filing and reference binder) when you get The CRIMINAL LAW REPORTER.
