

Current Issues in Antitrust

Introduction

which suggests the desirability of the use of the Ohio State Law Journal as a forum for critical issues in the antitrust field. The Journal will accept, however, the effort to disseminate and analyze the current developments in the antitrust field, including, but not limited to, the following: (1) the current antitrust law, (2) the current antitrust practice, (3) the current antitrust theory, and (4) the current antitrust policy.

The Journal will accept, however, the effort to disseminate and analyze the current developments in the antitrust field, including, but not limited to, the following: (1) the current antitrust law, (2) the current antitrust practice, (3) the current antitrust theory, and (4) the current antitrust policy.

ERRATA

In Volume 39, Number 3, of the OHIO STATE LAW JOURNAL, an error appears on page 466 of Professor Minda's article entitled "The Lawyer-Economist at Chicago: Richard A. Posner and the Economic Analysis of Law." In the first sentence of section III, the word "stimulate" should be "simulate." The JOURNAL regrets the error.

ERRATA

In Volume IV, Number 2 of the Ohio State Law Journal, an error appeared on page 408 of Professor Minde's article entitled "The Lawyer's Responsibility in Chicago: Richard A. Pomeroy and the Economic Struggle of the Law." In the first sentence of section III, the word "summate" should be "summarize." The Journal regrets the error.