Ohio State Journal of Criminal Law

Volume 9 Number 2 Spring 2012

Symposium
"Punishment and Culpability"

Introduction
Mitch N. Berman

"Broad" Culpability and the Retributivist Dream
Douglas Hasak

Ignorance and Mistake of Criminal Law, Noncriminal Law, and Fact
Kenneth W. Simons

Intoxication, Recklessness, and Negligence
Gideon Yaffe

Why the Paradox of Blackmail is so Hard to Resolve
Peter Westen

Danger: The Ethics of Preemptive Action
Larry Alexander & Kimberly Kessler Ferzan

Culpable Aggression: The Basis for Moral Liability to Defensive Killing
Kimberly Kessler Ferzan

Against Theories of Punishment: The Thought of Sir James Fitzjames Stephen
Marc O. DeGirolami

Commentary Symposium
Saul Bellow, Herzog, and Criminal Attempts

Attempt and Reckless Endangerment in Saul Bellow's Herzog
Robert Batey

Defining Inchoate Crime: An Incomplete Attempt
Michael T. Cahill

Attempt, Preparation, and Harm: The Case of the Jealous Ex-Husband
John Hasnas

Rethinking Attempt Under the Model Penal Code
William T. Pizzi

 Attempt, Risk-Creation, and Change of Mind: Reflections on Herzog
Gideon Yaffe

Commentaries
False Justice and the "True" Prosecutor: A Memoir, a Tribute, and Commentary
Mark A. Godsey

Offering Monetary Rewards to Public Whistleblowers: A Proposal for Attacking Corruption at Its Source
Charles J. Stiegler