Students Speak Out

Ten students from the Lima Regional Campus participated in an informal discussion concerning the campus, its functions and problems, and involvement was blamed on outside jobs. Dave Kreigle questioned the guest about the holes in the parking lot and the strict rule enforcement. Mount replied that the other regional campuses questioned Lima's enforcement of the parking regulations, so stricter enforcement was put in effect. Dr. Biddle added that the holes would be temporarily filled until they can be paved.

Concerning campus life in general, Bob Adam stated, "It is what you make it," with unanimous agreement. Lack of student involvement was blamed on outside jobs. Dave Kreigle questioned the guest about the holes in the parking lot and the strict rule enforcement. Mount replied that the other regional campuses questioned Lima's enforcement of the parking regulations, so stricter enforcement was put in effect. Dr. Biddle added that the holes would be temporarily filled until they can be paved.

The Senate met at noon on Fridays in the student Activities Building's conference room. Meetings

Dr. James S. Biddle, Lima regional's new director, graduated from Liberty Center High School and received his bachelors and masters in mathematics from Bowling Green. This September 4, he obtained his doctorate in mathematics. Before his appointment at Lima, Dr. Biddle was mathematical coordinator for all the OSU regional campuses.

Dr. Biddle presently resides in Country Club Hills. He is a family man with two children- Jennifer, 3, and Julee, 10. In his sparet ime Dr. Biddle likes to golf. He also lectures Math 101 class for the fall quarter. Next quarter, Dr. Biddle plans to instruct Math 105 class.

Dr. Biddle is very concerned with the needs of the students. "The curricula is constantly being changed in an effort to improve it for the benefit of the students. Last year 59 courses were offered; this year 70 are offered. Although enrollment has increased 5%, students have 10% more courses to choose from."

Dr. Biddle says that the Lima Ponta Technical Center has greatly assisted Lima OSU in meeting the needs of the students.

Dr. Biddle emphasized his wish for more contact with the "student. He said, "Any student may come and talk to me any time about any thing."

The Symposium of 1970-71 will not be a mere lecture series. Instead, it will be a "give-and-take" of ideas from the students to the speaker, and vice versa. The speakers will not just lecture, but also will spend the entire day on campus to establish as much communication with students as possible. When possible, the speaker will be scheduled for both afternoon and evening receptions in order to involve as many students as possible.

Everyone is urged to attend these various discussions and to formulate ideas and perspectives.

Next year's 1971-72 Symposium is in need of interested people willing to dedicate some time and effort to their university. If you are interested, contact Mr. Wayne Reinhardt or Mr. Michael Sens, or leave your name, address, and telephone number in mailbox 13 of the Student Activities Building.

The purpose of the Symposium is not to answer questions but to force the individual student to consider the place the university should be taking in today's society.

The Symposium's theme for the year will be "The Role of the University in a Time of Changing Values." This theme relates not just to Ohio State University, but also to the situation of American universities in general.
AAX - SORORITY NEWS

AAAX, Alpha Lambda Chi Sorority, is an independent girls organization; social and service. The club is sponsored by the Lima TOWN Services. Plans for the year include distribution of food for needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, participation in the Toys for Tots drive, and tutoring children at the Allen County Children's Home.

Socially, the Alpha Lambda Chi Sorority sponsors the Sweetheart Dance in February, participates in events during May Week, and attends alumni parties at the Y, usually one at the end of each quarter, to celebrate the end of PINTER. Financially, because it is an independent organization, money will be raised by bake sales and, hopefully, a faculty-baby picture contest. Recently one bake sale was held on October 18. Traveling from door-to-door in Country Club Hills were local sorority members, selling goods they baked themselves. The goodies ranged anywhere from rabbit cakes, to gingerbread men, to homemade bread, to brownies, to... It was very successful.

All of the goods were sold and $322.15 collected.

Officers for the 1970-71 school year are: President- Hannah Pugsley, Vice-President- Ann Recker, Secretary- Donna Pullenkamp, Treasurer- Debbie Huber, and Publicity- Janet Penhorwood.

Freshmen initiation, otherwise known as Hell Week, was held October 12-16. Ratted hair, stuffed animals, baggy pants, Halloween masks, and flannel pajamas were just a few of the requirements through the week. Now you know that the girls you saw wearing such things were doing it for a purpose; they're all back to normal clothing now!

Memberships will again be open the Winter Quarter. If anyone is interested, contact one of the officers or a current member of the Sorority. It should be a great year for everyone!

AAAX Sorority is a chance for girls to become better acquainted, while serving school and community. Meetings are held every third Friday of the month unless it is necessary to call a special one at 12:00 in the Activities Building.

WHAT IS CIRCLE K?

Circle K is a service organization for college men. It tries to further the University Spirit at the Lima Campus of Ohio State University. In affiliation with the Kiwanis Club of Lima, it sponsors many activities on and off the campus. This year, as in previous years, they will co-sponsor the Sweetheart Dance in February, and will help during May Week with the Car Rally. Also in the plans this year are fund-raising events for the March of Dimes and the sending of college students to the Allen County Children's Home to tutor. So you see, Circle K is far from being a dude ranch as some students thought. Circle K is an organization of dedicated college men interested in the promotion of University Spirit.

During last week's meetings, Circle K elected this year's officers: President-
We wrote our name in the sand
And our bodies brushed close
Together as we walked along the Rocks. He told me how crayfish
Make fossils and how the rocks
Were in different layers and
Then laughed at how he was Lecturing me. Sitting in the Warm sun, protected from the Wind, we became entranced
By the sun's reflection
Across the water. We seemed
Alone despite the many fishermen
Along the water's edge.
The shadows changed and
The wood had to be broken
As time intervened. Reluctantly,
We left our seclusion and
Entered the loud, noisy, world again.

Deb Williams.

The Industry is my shepherd
I shall not want
It maketh the flowers die down
in green pastures.
It leadeth me beside the stillled
Waters where life no longer resides.
It leadeth me to mounds of waste for its Profit's sake.
Even though I walk through the city
In the shadow of smog, I fear no
Cancer;
For my gas mask is with me
Its filters and goggles—they comfort me—
Filled with aluminum cans and throw-
Away bottles.
It annoitsest our rivers and lakes and
Oceans with pulp, poisons and oil.
Our refuse heaps overflow
Surely pollution and consumerism
Shall not follow me all the Days of my life
And I shall not dwell in the House of apathy forever.

Remember 12 on the 12th
The mind loses many things,
But what is never forgotten.
The first love
The first hurt.
Margaret was both.
Memory circles back to sixth-grade class.
Small, blond, blue-frightened eyes sweeping back and forth, darting from face to face, until, finally,
Resting upon mine.
From that first day, friends,
Margaret and I.
Both shy, quiet; perhaps even lonely.
But the difference----
Pale, pretty, blond:
Black, plain, thin.
Even so, we talked, we laughed upon the dazzling green hill close to school.
A thousand questions she asked
And with pride I filled the air with sweet-tarted answers.
The hall corridors.
He is different...He is not like you...He is not human
"Then what Mommy said"

Now, I think of how she came out of that dark corridor.
I saw her following me with new eyes.
Puzzled eyes,
There was a strange fear, gripped within those eyes.
The days thereafter brimmed with strange, uncomfortable moments,

When Margaret and I would look longingly each other's way
But our eyes darted quickly away.
Yes, we were little pawns—one white, one black.
In a game over which we had no control.
We spoke to each other not at all.
On the last day of school,
Eschewing up a strange and reckless courage—
Taking my autograph book to where Margaret was sitting,
And shyly handing it to her,
She, hesitating, then taking it
Without even looking up
Wrote words I don't remember,
White common words, words
Everyone was writing to everyone else.
Then slowly, so very slowly,
Like sobs of time.
She passed her book to me.
In it I wrote a slow,
Firm, congestion of words
She had taught me.
In it I wrote.
Adjo min van.
Goodbye, my friend.
There, it was done.
I released her,
I let her go,
I told her not to worry
For I no longer needed her
Adjo.
It means goodbye.

Mrs. Vernene Colloms, Director of University Singers, is now auditioning any student who is interested in becoming a member of University Singers next quarter. Requirements for the group are sight-reading ability, proper interaction, and a zest for singing. Anyone interested should see Mrs. Colloms in Room 142 of the Student Activities Building.

The University Singers performed on October 24 for the Allen County Alumni Association of Ohio State University in the OSU-Lima Cafeteria. The group performed the following songs: Echoing Baguins, Trumpet Voluntary, Yesterday, Bless This House, and Sing Me A Rainbow.

Women of University Singers have added to their formal attire gold sashes in commemoration of Ohio State's centennial year.

Theme for the year is "Follow the Rainbow to the Golden Sunshine.

Numbers for the Christmas concert now in rehearsal will begin with compositions dating back from 1870 to the present 1970.

Rehearsals have begun for the Lima Campus Choir's Christmas concert.

This year the choir is under the direction of a new director, Robert Sedoris. The major work for the Christmas concert will be the Magnificat by Bach. The program will also feature selected numbers by the choir and the University Singers.

Choir officers are Barbara Teggardin, president; Andy Carter, vice-president; Harriet Pughseley, secretary-treasurer; Rodney Mason, manager, and Mary Clark, librarian. The accompanists will be Lima McNullen, Becky Davis, and Keith Goodwin.

Special awards were recently issued to several musical groups of the Lima Campus that participated in the Parade of American Music this past school year. Those double ribbon 2-star attainments were awarded during the summer of 1970 by the National Federation of Music Clubs. The Awards have been on display in the trophy cabinet in the Student Activities Building and are permanently established in one of the music offices.

The special awards went to the Contempord Folk Singers, University Singers, and the Lima Campus Choir. The highest award went to Sigma Pi Mu for sponsoring the event.

The Lima Campus received the highest number of awards of any university in Ohio.

Mrs. Colloms, the national student advisor and representative-at-large of the Ohio Board of the federation, was present at the convention in Cincinnati Oct. 16 to accept the honors for the Lima Campus music organizations.
Enrollment at the Lima Campus of OSU totaled 1293, according to Dr. Zimmermann. First-quarter freshman enrollment was 560 of this number. In addition, there are 10 part-time faculty members, representing the work of some of whom continue from incoming freshman with Lima at the Columbus campus.

Senior High, Beth, Lima, etc. The Administration staff at Central Catholic-Chambers is comprised of six members, Elida, Ottawa-Glandorf, and Wapakoneta each having faculty members, 20 or more representatives tied to the secretarial and custodial staffs. Numbered 19, increased for the 1970-71 academic year. Approximately $26,000 will be awarded including Economic Opportunity Grants and Ohio Industrial Grants.

GIRL SCOUTS

FORMED

Campus Girl Scouts is a new-ly forming organization geared to those who have formerly been active in Scouting, want to continue in Scouting, or who have an interest in what Scouts are doing. The OSU girls, as well as the ONU girls, are involved in initiating council-wide (the county) ecological projects. We are brainstorming to get all levels of Scouting within this area interested in their environments. The next meeting will be posted on the bulletin boards. BE A PART OF US!!!

CAR WASH

Thursday, Nov. 12, the Letterman's Club will sponsor a car wash from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. behind the Student Activities Building. Price, $1.00.

There are 49 full-time resident faculty members. In addition there are 10 part-time faculty members, representing the work of some of whom continue from incoming freshman with Lima at the Columbus campus.

On Wednesday, October 20, the soccer team of the "Ansfield Branch of OSU took a double crouching. The crouching was from the ball that started to fall at 4:00 and continued to fall until the entire game. The other crouching came from the hands of the Barons of Lima OSU by a score of 5-1.

Scoring goals for the Barons were Bill Overholtz, 1 goal on a free goal kick; Jim Devita scored two goals, Jim also kicked an attempted goal which was deflected by asansfield player into the goal for a total of 3 goals for the night.

Don Hawk finally used his head by heading the ball into the net for 1 goal. Overholtz was also credited with 1 assist.

The Barons' fullbacks, halfbacks, and goalies are to be credited with the defense kept the ball out of Lima territory for most of the game.

The Barons, who are coached by Mr. Jesse Ponce and Mr. Julio Torres, now stand at a season record of 2-2-1. Lima is captured by Bill Heub, Don "Lee" Miller, and 3 players who are judged by the coaches to have played the best in the preceding game.

Coach Bill Sancus started basketball practice Monday night at the Lima Bath Junior High School gym.

This year nearly 100 men formed eight teams for intramural flag football. The games have been played on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 10:30 a.m. and Saturday at 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. All games this season were officiated by students, Don Hart and Bill Harrod. In case you didn't know, the rules of flag football differ somewhat from its mother game. For example, body blocking and tackling are not allowed. The ball carrier is considered "down" when his flag, which is torn on a belt, is ripped off. All blocking must be done while standing. The 50 yard field is divided by lines into 20-yard quarters. A first down is accomplished when the ball carrier crosses one of these lines. This year's leading team is team number two, the Guppies, with a perfect 4-0 record. Number one, the faculty team, had had a slow season thus far, with a record of 2-2. Trophies will be awarded to the end of the season to the players on the winning team.
