INTRODUCTION TO THE BIBLIOGRAPHY ISSUE

I. CONTENTS OF EACH BIBLIOGRAPHY ENTRY

Each bibliography entry is an article or book written in the area of alternative dispute resolution. Each entry includes the legal citation of the article or book followed by a brief summary paragraph. Search terms, listed below the summary paragraph, highlight key topics covered by the article, and are cross-referenced with the Subject Heading Outline. Sample entries are provided below.

A. Sample Book Entry

Directed at consumers, the authors focus on methods of arbitration. The book addresses the limitations on the applicability of the Federal Arbitration Act, contract defenses to pre-dispute arbitration clauses, limitations imposed upon arbitration clauses by federal statutes, constitutional challenges to such clauses, and procedural issues that arise over the enforcement of arbitration clauses.

C. Sample Article Entry

Both alternative dispute resolution (ADR) processes and litigation can be conducive to community building, according to the author. ADR's collaborative nature often benefits the community more than adversarial techniques. However, difficulties arriving at collaboration during mediation lead to mediations that resemble adversarial litigation. The author also notes that adjudicative litigation benefits society by providing force to the ideals of justice and order.

II. HOW TO USE THE BIBLIOGRAPHY

Refer to the Subject Heading Outline starting on page 973 to select the area of alternative dispute resolution that you want to research. After selecting an area, note the search term to the right of the subject heading, and use the Index Number to the left of the heading to locate the search term in the Article & Book Entries by Search Terms & Index Numbers beginning on page 1115. Under each search term, there is a list of authors for the articles identified by that search term. The complete entry can then be located by the author's last name (or Journal name if there is no Author) in the Alphabetized Bibliography Entries starting on page 1013. A bibliography entry may contain multiple search terms; if you want to find the corresponding Index Number for any of the search terms, use the Subject Heading Outline starting on page 973.
