Welcome, Alumni!

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dr. Howard L. Bevis, President
The Ohio State University

Apart from the usual color and excitement of Homecoming, two special developments on the campus today make this an unusual occasion for returning alumni. More than ever is it a time to "sing Ohio's praise."

Earlier today occurred the dedications of the newly-prepared Alumni House and the magnificent new Ohio Union. Both are particularly close to the interests and affections of alumni.

The fine new Alumni House, beautifully furnished and centrally located on the campus, provides not only more adequate housing for the Alumni Association but also a gathering place, at last, for those who have come back to visit Alma Mater. What was once the old Service Building has been attractively redecorated and furnished to serve those who continue their ties with the University through the Association.

Words are hardly adequate to describe the new Ohio Union. Financed by the students and planned by them in cooperation with the administration of the University, it represents, I am sure, all they ever dreamed of. It is a fitting climax to a building program that has added 12 new buildings and other additions to the campus in the past four years.

As to our game for today, one of the great football rivalries of Western Conference history is renewed in this meeting in Ohio Stadium. Alumni whom we welcome home today will recall the great contests of past years between the Buckeyes and Illini. The competition has always been keen, with championship hopes often riding on the outcome.

So to all, welcome again on this day of reunion and pride.

Dr. Howard L. Bevis
OUR Uncle Sam's Sons and Daughters will meet another challenge in the year 1952— at the Olympic Games at Helsinki, Finland.

The United States Olympic Association, aware of the great effort 68 nations will make to wrest the Olympic laurels which we have defended so gallantly for many years, desires to send the champion athletes in our land to these Games.

It wishes to do so with funds contributed by the sports-loving fans of the nation so that if Victory is won, it will be shared by all Americans. It doesn't want the United States Olympic team subsidized by the government.

Ohio State University has had wonderful representation in the Olympic Games.

Harry Steel was heavyweight wrestling champion in the 1924 Games and George Guthrie was a member of the U. S. track team in the same year. George Simpson and Jack Keller were track members in 1932, followed in 1936 by Jesse Owens and Dave Albritton. The same 1936 team produced Swimmers John Higgins and Ralph Gilman from Buckeye ranks.

Then, when the Games were resumed in 1948, Ohio State turned to Swimmer Bill Smith, Divers Bruce Harlan and Miller Anderson and Distance Runner Mal Whitcomb.

On one daily occasion during the '48 Games, Ohio State won more medals than all of the European nations combined.

And, too, no other American university had as many as three men on the 1948 Olympic swimming team.

The Committee is confident that our athletes will meet the Challenge. It is hopeful that Mr. and Mrs. American Fan will likewise meet the Challenge to their patriotism and give most generously to the United States Olympic Games Fund.

Make your check or money order to the United States Olympic Association and mail to Richard C. Larkins, Director of Athletics, Ohio State University.

HOMECOMING SCENES IN 1950

Scenes like these greeted Ohio State University's "homecomers" in 1950 when Michigan out-Eskimoed the Buckeyes 9 to 3 in what has been termed the "Blizzard Bowl". The mercury dropped from 50 degrees to 55 during the afternoon. Snow, which blanketed the field during the day, was 10 inches deep when the game ended. Had good weather prevailed, more than 80,000 would have witnessed the struggle. Some 25,000 braved the elements to witness the historical spectacle, voted by the nation's press as the "Sports Oddity of 1950".

“M”usic at Half-Time” today uses a theme which fits well into the Homecoming festivities. The band will trace for you the “Romance of The Buckeye,” the story of how an insignificant fruit became the emblem of a great university.

This show originally was planned for and performed at the now famous “Blizzard Bowl” game between Ohio State and Michigan in Ohio Stadium last November 25. Because of the low attendance and because many of the small, but hardly audience could not clearly see the field due to the swirling snow, it was felt the show should be repeated for this year’s homecoming.

Entering from the north, the band moves to mid-field in a drill routine while playing the stirring “Ohio Bugle March.” At that point, the music changes to the “Illinois Loyalty” song and the band members trace into a U. I. monogram facing the east stands.

After the announcer, Tom Johnson, tells the crowd about the theme of the show and explains that the Buckeye is said to have led its origin in Persia, the band forms a huge camel while playing “In a Persian Marketplace.” The formation then changes to a Persian Dancing Girl. The music has no title but will be recognized as a twelve usually associated with this style of dancing.

Next we see the Eiffel Tower, formed to the tune of “The Last Time I Saw Paris.” The announcer points out that at one time the Buckeye was used in France as a source of laundry starch. As the announcement is completed, the band has moved into a formation of Two Wash-Tubs on a Stand with a Wringer between. A group of bandsmen moves from one tub, through the wringer into the other tub as the band plays “This Is The Way We Wash Our Clothes.”

To traditional Indian music the bandsmen do an Indian dance step and move into the outline of an Indian Tepee. This time, the announcer explains that at times the Buckeye was used for food by the American Indian.

The “Romance of The Buckeye” comes to a fitting close with the playing of the song “Trees” and the formation of a huge Buckeye Leaf. This leaf became an official emblem of The Ohio State University in 1950. A special drawing was made by famous cartoonist Milton Caniff, an alumnus, and is being used as a shoulder patch on the band uniforms.

As the “Buckeye Fanfare” is sounded, the Homecoming Queen, with her court and escort, moves onto the field to be introduced to the crowd. For the last time of the 1951 season, Ohio Stadium resounds with a song which has a special meaning at Homecoming:

CARMEN OHIO

Words by Fred A. Cornell, '06

(O Spanish Chant)

Oh! Come let’s sing Ohio’s praise, And songs to Alma Mater rise.

While our hearts rebounding thrill, With joy which death alone can still.

Summer’s heat or Winter’s cold, The seasons pass, the years will roll;

Time and change will surely show How firm thy friendship Ohio.

These jolly days of priceless worth, By far the gladdest days of earth,

True to friend and frank to foe, As sturdy sons of Ohio.

If on seas of care we roll, ’Neath blackened sky, o’er barren shoal,

Thee of thee bid darkness go, Dear Alma Mater Ohio.
Marie (The Body) McDonald, Lovely Motion Picture Star, says: "There may be some dispute even in Columbus, as to the nation's Number One football team—but there is no argument whatever, in Columbus or anyplace else, as to the nation's most restful and relaxing chair. . . it's the World's Only Contour Chair Lounge
