Pioneering at The State University of Iowa

JUST about 100 years ago The State University of Iowa, a pioneering institution with a faculty of three, faced an unusual problem—pistol-packing students. The faculty took action, ruling in 1862 that “students are prohibited from wearing firearms.”

Problems today are quite different, but the pioneering spirit which has dominated the University since its inception in 1847 still persists.

When Explorer I began its historic orbits through outer space, it carried cosmic ray instruments developed at

SUI. And when America's first satellite started reporting by radio on radiation in outer space, the reports were sent posthaste to SUI for interpretation by James Van Allen and the group of young physicists who work with him.

Pioneering in space is the latest in a long line of “firsts” which have been chalked up at SUI since the students' pistol-packing days. In 1860 the board of trustees decided to admit women on equal terms with men—the first state university in the country to do so. Women and men attended most classes together, but the sexes were separated in penmanship classes and they could not speak to one another an hour before daily chapel. Coeds now make up about 30 per cent of the more than 10,000 students who attend SUI's ten colleges and four schools.

The nation's first inter-faith School of Religion was founded on the Iowa campus more than 30 years ago, with faculty members of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths sharing adjoining offices.

Iowa has also led the way in accepting creative work—a novel, a piece of sculpture, a painting, a play, a musical composition—as a thesis for an advanced degree in the fine arts.

A major part of today's State University of Iowa is its Medical Center, where College of Medicine and College of Nursing students observe and work with patients in three large hospitals—General, Children's and Psychopathic—and in the Hospital-School for Severely Handicapped Children. Dentistry and pharmacy students also use facilities of the center.

The nation's first Institute of Agricultural Medicine was established at SUI to study diseases peculiar to farm residents and to improve health conditions of rural dwellers.

More than 40 years ago another pioneering group of dedicated researchers and laymen established the first university unit in the country to study the normal child, The Iowa Child Welfare Research Station.

Across the entire Iowa campus researchers take part in the constant quest for new knowledge. An Iowa botanist, for instance, is making a study of the distinctive vegetation of the prairies. A neurosurgeon in the Iowa Medical Center continues his efforts in perfecting a new type of brain operation, involving the focusing of ultrasonic sound on damaged nerves. Iowa pharmacists are working on a unique project in which they seek to lengthen the shelf-life of drugs stockpiled by the armed forces for use in times of national emergency. A professor of German has developed a new form of international communication.

It is almost impossible to walk 100 yards in any direction on the SUI campus without coming across basic or applied research projects aimed at increasing the sum total of man's knowledge. And this is but one of the three obligations which SUI President Virgil M. Hancher cites as the unique responsibilities of the University—teaching, or the transmission of knowledge; research, the increase of knowledge, and service to the public which supports it, the interpretation of knowledge.

Students Greet Ohio State Dads

Planning Ohio State University's annual Dad's Day festivities are these student committee members: (left to right, seated) Charlotte Jenkins, Columbus, chairman of campus arrangements; Jan Zehner, Bellevue, general chairman and Pat Anders, Columbus, secretary; (standing) Carol Kleifgen, San Diego, Calif., representing Terry Henry, Bennington, Vt., Dad's Day luncheon chairman; Douglas Morris, Columbus, hospitality chairman; Philip Moots, Bellefontaine, publicity chairman; and Lawrence D. Katz, of University Heights, Ohio, stadium arrangements chairman.

WELCOME, DADS! Today, we hope you are enjoying the special occasions prepared in your honor. We wish to express, in some small measure, our thanks and appreciation to each of you.

Dad's Day activities include a luncheon in the Ohio Union ballroom with the fathers of the football players and greetings from the university administration and athletic council. At half-time, a plaque will be presented by Jan Zehner, chairman of Dad's Day, an award which will carry our appreciation to all university dads.

We have selected a "Dad of Dads" to represent all of you. He is Mr. Christy H. Dunn, of Zanesville, Ohio. Mr. Dunn attended Muskingum College from 1928 to 1930, then enrolled at Ohio State from which he received an AB degree in 1932 and a BS degree in Education in 1934. Mr. Dunn has practiced law for 16 years and served as assistant prosecuting attorney in Muskingum county from 1944 to 1952. He also served as assistant attorney general from 1952 to 1956. Mr. Dunn now is a Muskingum county court judge.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn have a daughter, Pamela Jean, 18, who is a freshman student at Ohio State.

We hope you enjoy YOUR day Dads, and remember it with happiness.

DAVID KILGORE
Dayton Senior

ONE of the 18 seniors making his final appearance in Ohio Stadium today is David Kilgore, the Buckeyes' phenomenal 158 pound place-kicker.

A young man who puts his heart and toe into his work, Kilgore not only has been the most accurate place-kicker in the Western Conference for the past two seasons but has led the Ohio State scoring column during 1959. After the first seven games, Kilgore had kicked four field goals in seven tries and six extra points in six attempts.

The 5-9, 21 year-old from Dayton has practiced diligently every evening, kicking an average of 50 per workout. Dave begins his routine around the 10 yard line, then retreats to the 40, from which point he has shown surprising power.

Kilgore kicked 15 extra points out of 17 tries last year but actually missed only one, another being blocked. His field goal against Iowa was the clincher in a 38-28 triumph.

The Ohio State Football Coaching Staff

Back row: Frank Kremblas, assistant freshman; Harry Strobel, guards and centers; "Woody" Hayes, head coach; Esco Sarkkinen, ends; Ernie Godfrey, head freshman coach.

Buckeye Potato Chips

invites you to sing along

CARMEN OHIO

Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship O-hi-o.

Salem's new cigarette paper discovery "air-softens" every puff

Created by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

Now even the paper adds to Salem's Springtime Freshness

An important break-through in Salem's research laboratories now brings you an entirely new kind of cigarette paper — HIGH POROSITY paper — which breathes new freshness into the flavor.

Each puff on a Salem draws just enough fresh air in through the paper to make the smoke taste softer, fresher, more flavorful than ever. If you've enjoyed Salem's springtime freshness before, you'll be even more pleased now. Smoke refreshed — smoke Salem!

Salem's amazing new HIGH POROSITY paper
"air-softens" every puff.

Invisible porous openings blend just the right amount of air with each puff to give you a softer, fresher, even more flavorful smoke.

- menthol fresh
- rich tobacco taste
- modern filter, too

Salem refreshes your taste
