Information Concerning the OSUWPL

The Working Papers in Linguistics is an occasional publication of the Department of Linguistics of the Ohio State University and usually contains articles written by students and faculty of the department. There are generally two to three issues per year. Information about available issues appears below. Numbers 1, 5, 10 and 23 are out of print and no longer available. The table of contents can also be viewed on our WWW (World Wide Web) server:

http://ling.ohio-state.edu/Department/Osuwpl.html

There are two ways to subscribe to WPL. The first is on a regular basis: the subscriber is automatically sent and billed for each issue as it appears. The second is on an issue-by-issue basis: the subscriber is notified in advance of the contents of each issue, and returns an order blank if that particular issue is desired.

A Note from the Editors

This volume is a special issue containing a sampling of research by graduate students and faculty of the Department of Linguistics at the Ohio State University. Several authors have graduated since submitting their papers. This volume is devoted to works in Semantics, including works on modality (Chan Chung and Andreas Kathol), tense and aspect (Alicia Cipria & Craige Roberts, Eun Jung Yoo, and Jae-Hak Yoon), the information structure and adverbs of quantification (Craige Roberts and Mike Calcagno).

Two regular volumes of the Working Papers in Linguistics appear annually, an autumn issue and a spring issue. The autumn issue is a collection of works from different areas of linguistics, while the spring issue focuses on a particular subfield. In addition to the two regular publications each year, special issues may also be published dealing with specific topics in linguistics.
