Resources

The Minnesota Historical Society's research department each year makes available grants in several categories to support original research and writing leading to interpretive works on the history of Minnesota by academicians, independent scholars, and professional and nonprofessional writers. Preference is given to projects that will produce article or book-length manuscripts to be considered for publication in Minnesota History, the Society's quarterly, or by the Minnesota Historical Society Press. Especially encouraged are projects that add a multicultural dimension to the area's history and that covers subjects not well represented in the published record, including agriculture, urban history, workers and work, historic preservation, and sports.

Applications may be made in one of four categories: (1) mini-grants up to $500 for research expenses; (2) visiting scholar grants up to $1,000 for published scholars whose projects require research in the Minnesota Historical Society collections; (3) article grants up to $1,500 for expenses of conducting research planned to result in an article to be submitted to Minnesota History; (4) major grants up to $5,000 for expenses of conducting research planned to result in a large-scale project such as a book. Grants are not awarded to support work on dissertations or theses or to assist in the purchase of computers or other equipment.

Applications consist of a completed Application Form plus supplementary materials specifically requested. Application deadlines are September 1, January 2 and April 1. Awards are announced by November 1, March 1 and June 1. Applications for mini-grants may be submitted at any time and will generally require one month to review. The grant program is funded on a fiscal year basis, the amount of funds available for grants may vary from year to year.

For a copy of the Research Grants Program Information and Guidelines and an Application Form, write to Deborah L. Miller, Research Supervisor, Minnesota Historical Society, 345 Kellogg Blvd. West, St. Paul, MN 55102 or send a request by e-mail to <debbie.miller@mnhs.org>.

The Society for Disability Studies

The Society for Disability Studies is a nonprofit scientific and educational organization. It is a multidisciplinary and international organization composed of social scientists, scholars in the humanities, and disability rights advocates concerned with the problems of disabled people in society. The purpose of the Society is to bring together people from diverse backgrounds to share ideas and to engage in dialogues that cut across disciplinary backgrounds and substantive concerns. The Society is committed to developing theoretical and practical knowledge about disability and to promoting the full and equal participation of persons with disabilities in society.

Further information on membership and the annual meeting can be obtained from the national office of the Society. The mailing address is: Society for Disability Studies, c/o Professor Carol Gill, Department of Disability and Human Development, University of Illinois at Chicago (MC 626), 1640 Roosevelt Road #236, Chicago, IL 60608-6904.

READ REVOLUTIONARY RESEARCH ON SIGNED LANGUAGES

Sign Language Studies
—Quarterly Journal
David F. Armstrong, Editor

I recently lined up all the issues on my shelf and read them beginning to end. I found many old friends, seminal papers, and a richness of texture—language, culture, anthropology, sociology, psychology—that few journals can rival.
—Harlan Lane, Author, The Mask of Benevolence

First founded in 1972 by William C. Stokoe, the father of the linguistics of American Sign Language, Sign Language Studies continues as the leading journal on signed languages and the communities that use them. Sign Language Studies (SLS) presents a unique forum for revolutionary papers on related disciplines, including linguistics, anthropology, semiotics, and Deaf studies, Deaf history, and Deaf literature. SLS editor David F. Armstrong, distinguished anthropologist and author of Original Signs: Gesture, Sign, and the Sources of Language, coauthored Gesture and the Nature of Language with Stokoe and Sherman Wilcox.

I don’t think there is any greater collection of articles related to sign language and Deaf culture in any journal anywhere. Sign Language Studies also offers a context of serious works in which to publish such articles.
—Tom Humphries, Coauthor, Deaf in America

TRAVEL THE DEAF WAY FROM PANHANDLING TO POETRY

Deaf Peddler
Confessions of an Inside Man
Dennis S. Buck
Buck tells how he earned hundreds of dollars in just a few hours panhandling at airports and malls while receiving government benefits, why he did it, and also comments on the exploitation of deaf immigrant peddlers in recent years.
ISBN 1-56368-096-3, 5½ x 8½ softcover, 136 pages, illustrations, bibliography $15.95

Deaf American Literature
From Carnival to the Canon
Cynthia L. Peters
Peters shows how deaf people, disenfranchised from the literary canon, act as jesters or tricksters to use American Sign Language as an art form as they transform English literary content.
ISBN 1-56368-094-7, 6 x 9 hardcover, 232 pages, notes, index $55.00 November 2000
