
A CHANGE IN EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL

Dr. Richard H. Böhning has recently resigned as editor of The Ohio Journal of Science.

The new Editor-in-Chief is Dr. Henry L. Plaine of the Department of Zoology and Entomology of The Ohio State University.

The editorial policy of the Journal will continue in the pattern established by previous editors. The Journal will welcome and publish papers in all fields of science. The papers may be either technical reports of new research, or expository and descriptive papers on aspects of science of general interest.