FAC reviewed agenda items for the May 11th Faculty Meeting. Most of the discussion centered on how to conduct a group discussion on leading from anywhere in the organization. This is related to one of our new strategic directions. The agenda will include three questions for faculty members to consider before the meeting:

From a faculty perspective, how do you define “leading from where you are” across the organization?

What are your leadership responsibilities?

What obstacles do you face when empowering others to lead from where they are?

Damon is expected to discuss the upcoming group evaluation of Assistant/Associate Directors at the Faculty Meeting. Bruce will replace the outdated schedule page on the FAC website with a placeholder until a new schedule has been established
