JEFFREY A. REDDING, A SECULAR NEED: ISLAMIC LAW AND STATE GOVERNANCE IN CONTEMPORARY INDIA (2020).

This book explores India's non-state system of Muslim dispute resolution—known as the dar-ul-qaza system and commonly referred to as "Muslim courts" or "shariat courts"—and challenges conventional narratives surrounding the opposition between Islamic law and secular forms of governance. The book argues that that Indian secular law and governance cannot work without the significant assistance of non-state Islamic legal actors. The book examines specific situations to illustrate that Indian state secularism needs the Islamic non-state system.
