Organisation	Fogarty International Center, National Institutes of Health (NIH)
Country	United States
Title of presentation	Advancing Health Research in Humanitarian Crises
Abstract	This presentation identifies the mission of the Fogarty Center at the National Institutes of Health. Within this, the Advancing Health Research in Humanitarian Crises program has been initiated recently. Specific projects within this program will be described, as well as resources and funding streams within Fogarty. Research ethics is an important cross-cutting strand across these projects.
