

OHIO STATE JOURNAL OF CRIMINAL LAW

Volume 16 Number 2 Spring 2019

SYMPOSIUM

Guest Editors: Bruce A. Green, Peter A. Joy & Ellen Yaroshefsky

| | |
|--|-----|
| Forward: In Honor of Prof. Bennett L. Gershman Bruce A. Green, Peter A. Joy & Ellen Yaroshefsky | 291 |
| Undue Influence: A Prosecutor’s Role in Parole Proceedings R. Michael Cassidy | 293 |
| The Challenge of Convincing Ethical Prosecutors That Their Profession Has a Brady Problem Adam M. Gershowitz | 307 |
| The Politicization of Prosecutors: A Tribute to the Work of Bennett Gershman Laurie L. Levenson | 325 |
| Disciplinary Regulation of Prosecutorial Discretion: What Would a Rule Look Like? Samuel J. Levine | 347 |
| Prosecutorial Disclosure and Negotiated Guilty Pleas Kevin C. McMunigal | 363 |
| Coaxing, Coaching and Coercing: Witness Preparation by Prosecutors Revisited Daniel S. Medwed | 379 |
| Bennett Gershman on the Prosecutor’s Role as “Minister of Justice” Ellen S. Podgor | 399 |
| The Prosecutors I Like: A Very Short Essay Abbe Smith | 411 |
| From Dropsy to Testilying: Prosecutorial Apathy, Ennui, or Complicity? Steven Zeidman | 423 |

COMMENTARY

| | |
|---|-----|
| Knowledge and Belief as Criminal Law Mental States Kevin Cole | 441 |
|---|-----|

REVIEW

| | |
|---|-----|
| Speaking of Prosecutors: Deceptively Descriptive on the Surface with a Heavy Normative Undertow Carrie Leonetti | 453 |
|---|-----|