

ask

RESEARCH & METHODS

Volume 25
Issue 1
2016

ARTICLES

Cornelia Zuell and Evi Scholz

10 points versus 11 points? Effects of Left-right Scale Design in a Cross-national Perspective

Hideko Matsuo and Koen Matthijs

The Impact of Well-Being on Fertility Intentions – An Analysis Based on the European Social Survey (2010)

Sarah Grunberg

Sensitive Populations and Self-reflexive Methods: Ethnographic Exploration of Race and Racism in Poland

RESEARCH PROJECTS

Mihail Chiru

The Vanishing Lists: Collecting and Matching Parliamentary Candidate Data in Romania

Inna Bell, Joshua Kjerulf Dubrow, and Ania Purisch

Advances in Methodology in Poland: Abstracts of Ask: Research and Methods in English, 1995–2007

GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

SUBMISSION RULES

All contributions must be submitted in English. For authors whose native language is not English, it is highly recommended to check the article for linguistic correctness with the help of a professional copy-editor.

Any manuscript submitted to ASK must be an original work that has not been published before. ASK considers unethical the practice of simultaneous submission of the manuscript to another publication, neither in English nor in another language. All major findings of the manuscript that have been made by the authors themselves, or by their collaborators, and that has been or will be published elsewhere must be clearly identified and specified in a letter announcing manuscript submission to ASK.

Both ghostwriting and guest authorship<sup>1</sup> are regarded by ASK as unethical and the publisher is obliged by Polish law to prevent such manuscripts from appearing in their journal. In this regard, we require two statements in the letter announcing manuscript submission. First, that all parties – institutions or individuals – other than the authors of the manuscript who had significant contribution to this manuscript must be mentioned in an acknowledgement footnote or elsewhere in the manuscript. Second, that all authors had substantial contribution to this article, and no author acts as a guest.

ASK adheres to a rigorous double-blind reviewing policy and uses anonymous peer reviewers for manuscript evaluation. Remove or rewrite any text that identifies you as the author; when citing your own work, write “Kolczynska (2007) argued that...,” but do not write “I argued that (Kolczynska 2007)...” Remove any identification of you and your affiliation from the computer file (in the file name, the file’s and document’s properties, history of usage etc.). All contributions are initially reviewed by the Editor and only those that meet editorial and scientific standards, and follow ASK’s scope and aims, will be processed for external review.

The author must prepare a manuscript for blinded review, which consists of two separate documents. The first document is the text of the article. This document for blinded review must not include the title page, authors' names or affiliations, or any other identifying information. This document for reviewing must start with a title, an abstract with minimum 150 to maximum 250 words, followed by 3 to 6 key words. The body of this document should consist of the following parts, each starting from the title page: the text of the manuscript, footnotes, references, appendices, tables, charts and graphs. The latter three are optional.

The second document is the manuscript’s cover page containing the title, author’s name and institution must be enclosed as a separate file. A footnote to the title page containing the acknowledgments, the names and numbers of research grants and any other data that could be used to identify the author must also be placed only in this file. A brief, one-paragraph biographical note must be enclosed for each author describing their current institutional affiliation, research interests, and last publications. Biographical notes must be part of the file containing cover page information.

The authors are responsible for copyright permission when reproducing materials published elsewhere.

By submitting a manuscript, the authors agree to assign copyright to the Polish Academy of Sciences.

After publication, the authors receive one copy of the journal.

(Continued on inside back cover)

<sup>1</sup> A ‘guest author’ is a person whose name is listed among the authors but who had no significant contribution to the article.

OSM

RESEARCH & METHODS

Volume 25
Issue 1
2016

ARTICLES

Cornelia Zuell and Evi Scholz

10 points versus 11 points? Effects of Left-right Scale Design in a Cross-national Perspective 3

Hideko Matsuo and Koen Matthijs

*The Impact of Well-Being on Fertility Intentions –
An Analysis Based on the European Social Survey (2010)* 17

Sarah Grunberg

*Sensitive Populations and Self-reflexive Methods:
Ethnographic Exploration of Race and Racism in Poland* 47

RESEARCH PROJECTS

Mihail Chiru

*The Vanishing Lists: Collecting and Matching
Parliamentary Candidate Data in Romania* 61

Inna Bell, Joshua Kjerulf Dubrow, and Ania Purisch

Advances in Methodology in Poland: Abstracts of Ask: Research and Methods in English, 1995–2007 77

