“WEATHERING THE COLD”

It's winter in Ohio and you know what that means: frigid temperatures one day, sunshine and mild the next. Staying warm can often mean staying healthy, and in Ohio that's not always an easy task! Here are some tips to help you “weather the Ohio weather.”:

- *Dress in layers - several light, preferably cotton, layers will help to hold in your body heat much better than one large, bulky coat. Plus, you can remove the layers as you warm up inside.
- *Keep moving - if you find yourself outside in the dipping temperatures for an extended period of time, be sure to move your arms and legs often to keep your blood flowing! Rubbing your arms, legs and hands can help you to stay warm. Try not to stay in one position for a long time.
- *Carbon Monoxide can kill - never leave your car running in an enclosed garage, even if the door is up. If you are trapped in your car in a winter storm, be sure to keep the exhaust pipe free of snow and ice. The gas can become trapped inside your car, even in the outdoors!
- *Winterize your car, especially before travelling longer distances - have a qualified mechanic inspect your vehicle before making a long journey in winter weather. Areas such as the brakes, exhaust system, heater and defrost system should be inspected and approved.
- *Stock your car - carry with you essential items such as water, matches, candles, blankets and a “trouble” sign in case you find yourself off the road, out of gas, or in trouble.
- *Watch for signs of Frostbite and Hypothermia - signs of frostbite include a loss feeling and a pale or white appearance in earlobes, fingers, toes or other extremities. Hypothermia is characterized by uncontrollable shivering, slow speech, memory lapses, drowsiness, frequent stumbling and exhaustion.
- *Know how to help someone with frostbit or hypothermia - never give someone a caffeinated beverage (like cola, coffee or tea) who is exhibiting the signs of frostbite or hypothermia. Caffeine, a stimulant, increases the heart rate and hastens the effects cold has on the body. Instead, begin warming the person by putting him/her into dry clothing and wrapping a blanket around him/her. Seek medical attention as soon as possible. Warm the trunk of the body first, with arms and legs last, as stimulation in the limbs can drive cold blood toward the heart causing heart failure.

Whether a snow lover or snow grinch, with these tips, we can all weather the Ohio weather, whether we like it or not! Enjoy your winter quarter!
