

OHIO STATE JOURNAL ON DISPUTE RESOLUTION

VOLUME 20

2005

NUMBER 1

CONTENTS

Introduction	1
Articles
Do Former Leaders Have an International Right to Self-Representation in War Crimes Trials? Michael P. Scharf and Christopher M. Rassi	3
The Rule of Law: China's Skepticism and the Rule of People Pat K. Chew	43
Rough Justice: Establishing the Rule of Law in Post-Conflict Territories Simon Chesterman	69
U.N. Efforts to Promote Child-Conscious Peacemaking and Peacekeeping: A Step Towards Protecting the Lives of War-Affected Children Ilene Cohn	99
Ambiguity, Sovereignty, and Identity in Ireland: Peace and Transition James J. Friedberg	113
The Right of States to Repatriate Former Refugees James C. Hathaway	175
Vanishing Points of the Refugee Law Regime Marjoleine Zieck	217
Veterans' Pensions in Zimbabwe: Dispute Resolution and Nation-Building Norma Kriger	249
The Building Blocks of Successful Victim Compensation Programs Kenneth Feinberg	273
Closing Remarks Bathsheba Crocker	279

