
ATI Faculty/Staff Notes

October 1981

LIBRARY SURVEYS DUE

Phoebe Phillips requests that all library surveys passed out at the faculty/staff meeting be returned as soon as possible.

UNIVERSITY I.D. SERVICE HERE ON OCTOBER 14

The OSU I.D. Service will be at ATI on October 14 from 10:00 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. All ATI students, faculty and staff who do not have I.D. cards should have them prepared.

VISITING SCIENTIST LECTURE

Clyde Opliger is requesting that faculty release chemistry students from classes to attend Dr. William N. Lipscomb's lecture on "How Enzymes Work." Lipscomb is the 1976 Nobel Laureate in Chemistry. The lecture is Thursday, October 15, at 11:00 a.m. in Fisher Auditorium.

ROCKS IN THE LIBRARY

This quarter the display case inside the library entrance contains a rock and mineral collection provided by Becky Berry. Each specimen is labeled. The jewelry-quality minerals are the property of Sue Weidner, and Gasarre and Associates of Wooster have loaned their axehead and arrowhead collection.

BURMAN DIGNITARIES ARRIVE OCTOBER 15

The Burman Minister of Agriculture and Forestry, six other Burmans and F.A.O. apiculturists will visit ATI beginning October 15.

TEW ON "MORNING EXCHANGE"

Jim Tew, Marc Caputo and beekeeping student, Emil Houle, appeared on channel 5's "Morning Exchange" program September 30. Caputo was the victim as Houle applied a "bee beard." Tew, safely outside the screen bee cage, provided commentary.

BARBU PREPARES SCRIPTS

Linda Barbu prepared scripts and computer displays for 15 minute video tapes on whole numbers, fractions and percents. Video taping of this project for the Ohio Math Association of Two Year Colleges was completed on September 16. The tapes are being made at Akron University.

ENERGY FAIR AT OARDC...HAMMOND AND ROBERTS WILL SPEAK

An Energy Fair is scheduled for Fisher Auditorium on October 12, 13, and 14. Subjects such as attached greenhouses, energy efficient homes, landscaping for energy conservation, solar heaters and photovoltaic cells will be presented through commercial exhibits, panel discussions and guest lectures. Kent Hammond and John Roberts will be among the guest lecturers. Hours for the fair are: Monday - 6:30 to 10:00 p.m.; Tuesday - 2:00 to 10:00 p.m. Wednesday - 6:30 to 10:00 p.m. For more information, see the special section in the October 10 edition of the Daily Record.

HAMMOND IS GUEST SPEAKER

Kent Hammond is busy this month with outside speaking engagements. In addition to his presentation for the Energy Fair, he will conduct four tree study classes for elementary students of the Wooster City Schools at Inspiration Hills on October 5 and 7. On the evening of October 7, Kent will present a guest lecture on basic construction of patios, decks and retaining walls to 15 students of a Wayne General and Technical College Outdoor Gardening course.
