

The Knowledge Bank at The Ohio State University
Ohio State Engineer

Title: Editorial

Issue Date: May-1922

Publisher: Ohio State University, College of Engineering

Citation: Ohio State Engineer, vol. 5, no. 4 (May, 1922), 12-13.

URI: <http://hdl.handle.net/1811/35041>

Appears in Collections: Ohio State Engineer: Volume 5, no. 4 \(May, 1922\) place for unions in the modern industrial scheme, but there is also such a thing as their abusing the rights and privileges which are theirs, and to that extent are they defeating rather than aiding the purpose for which they came into being.

PI DELTA EPSILON

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, a chapter of which was recently installed at Ohio State, should be of inestimable value in the promotion of a more healthy, co-operative journalism on the campus. Unlike some journalistic fraternities which are purely honorary in their nature, it demands, in addition to this that its members work together in the interests of all campus publications, striving at all times to raise the standards of journalistic endeavor.

The Ohio State Press Association, the organization from which the local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon was evolved, was formed last fall by a group consisting of the editors and business managers of the leading campus publications, the nature of whose purposes and ideals were closely allied with those of the national fraternity.

One of the first steps of importance taken by the Association was to arrange a clubbing offer whereby the readers of several publications are given the benefit of a 10% to 25% reduction on subscription to two or more in the group. The details of this offer appear elsewhere in this issue.

---