

OHIO STATE LAW JOURNAL

Volume 69, Number 5, 2008

SYMPOSIUM:

The School Desegregation Cases and the Uncertain Future of Racial Equality

Articles

Foreword Dylan Griffiths	789
Not Hearing History: A Critique of Chief Justice Roberts's Reinterpretation of Brown Joel K. Goldstein	791
Desegregation, Discrimination and Democracy: Parents Involved's Disregard for Process Daniel P. Tokaji	847
What Would Justice Holmes Do (WWJHD)?: Rehnquist's Plessy Memo, Majoritarianism, and Parents Involved Brad Snyder	873
Educating at the Crossroads: Parents Involved , No Child Left Behind and School Choice Danielle Holley-Walker	911
The Price of Fame: Brown as Celebrity Mark A Graber	939
The Post- Parents Involved Challenge: Confronting Extralegal Obstacles to Integration Erica Frankenberg Chinh Q. Le	1015
The Impact of the Supreme Court's Decision in Parents Involved on California's Anti-Affirmative Action Law and California's Constitutional Mandate to Reduce De Facto Segregation Maria Blanco	1073

Student Essay

Reflections on The Shame of the Nation: The Restoration of Apartheid Schools in America Marla Goins	1085
--	------

