Preface

The ten short entries published in this third volume of Buckeye East Asian Linguistics are based on abstracts that were accepted for the 2nd Buckeye East Asian Linguistics Forum, which included two keynote speeches and 19 poster presentations delivered on Friday, October 21, 2016 at The Ohio State University (OSU) Columbus campus (<http://u.osu.edu/beal/>).

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the presenters and participants who came to the Forum to share their ideas and input. We are particularly grateful to our two keynote speakers at the Forum, Professors Yoshihisa Kitagawa (Indiana University Bloomington) and Xiaofei Lu (Pennsylvania State University). Many faculty members and graduate students in the East Asian linguistics community at OSU served on the organizing committee or helped with the Forum in other ways. Our sincere gratitude also goes to them. In addition, we thank the reviewers for this volume: John Bundschuh, Litong Chen, Alexander Francis-Ratte, Sha Huan, Mineharu Nakayama, Jingdi Shen, Qian Wang, Zhiguo Xie, Seo-jin Yang, Ying Zhang, and Wenting Zhao.

The 2nd Buckeye East Asian Linguistics Forum was generously supported by the following sponsors: Institute for Chinese Studies, Institute for Japanese Studies, Institute for Korean Studies, East Asian Studies Center, Department of East Asian Languages and Literatures, Department of Linguistics, College of Arts and Sciences (via a Humanities and the Arts Discovery Theme grant), Graduate Association of Chinese Linguistics, Graduate Students of East Asian Languages and Literatures, Council on Student Affairs (all at OSU), and U.S. Department of Education (via a Title VI grant to OSU East Asian Studies Center).

Buckeye East Asian Linguistics (BEAL)

Buckeye East Asian Linguistics is an open-access online publication launched in 2015. It is dedicated to the empirical study of languages spoken in East Asian countries/regions, including cross-linguistic research that draws on East Asian languages. It is edited by the faculty members and graduate students in the East Asian linguistics community at The Ohio State University, and published by the Knowledge Bank, which is administered by OSU Libraries. It aims to help disseminate the most updated research of East Asian linguistics to the global scholarly community to encourage and foster the widest communication and collaboration among scholars interested in East Asian linguistics.
