

Editor's Note

I am grateful as always to the scholars who gave their time to evaluate manuscripts, providing thoughtful and often extensive commentary and suggestions and occasionally directing me to other specialists. For this volume these include Matthew Z. Heintzelman, William Hodapp, Harriet Hudson, William Hyland, Dan Kirchhefer, Toni J. Morris, and Edward L. Risdén.

Cynthia Patton, chair of the Emporia State University Department of English, has once again supported us with equipment, supplies, postage, and secretarial time. Student secretary Amanda Weaverling was particularly helpful during early stages of the preparation of this volume.

Finally, I owe thanks to no one so much as to Becky Miller, once my student and now a graduate student at the University of Kansas. She has worked closely with me throughout the copy-editing process and during final formatting, demonstrating with the former a sharp editorial eye and with the latter an enviable mastery of electronic publishing skills. She deserves credit, in fact if not in title, as virtual co-editor of this volume.

Submitted manuscripts should follow the conventions of the most recent MLA Style Manual or MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers. Manuscripts (three copies) should be sent either to Mel Storm (Department of English, Emporia State University, Emporia, KS 66801), or to Kristin Figg (Department of English, Kent State University, Salem Campus, Salem, OH 44460), who has assumed the responsibility of editing PMAM during alternate years. In this endeavor Professor Figg is replacing Karen Moranski, to whom thanks are due for her work with the journal since 1997. Rosanne Gasse (Department of English, Brandon University, Brandon, MB R7A 6A9, Canada) is responsible for soliciting and coordinating book reviews, a new feature beginning with this volume.

Mel Storm
Department of English
Emporia State University